

Job Description:

The Journalist position will be responsible for:

- Spending time in the field building both short-term and long-term relationships with sources, subjects and targets
- Developing and living a cover, adopting an alias persona, gaining access to an identified person or place
- Obtaining video proof showing waste, fraud, abuse, corruption and other misconduct in a variety of public and private institutions
- Following guidelines, objectives and goals, deadlines and deliverables.
- Observing all applicable Federal and state laws with guidance of PV counsel and management

FUNCTIONS:

Conducting research • Planning an investigation • Preparing a background story to support your role • Gaining an appointment or access to the target of the investigation • Operating covert recording equipment and Utilizing disguise • Writing detailed reports and operational plans • Working alongside an Executive Producer and Assisting the Production team in compiling the final video.

REQUIRED SKILLSETS

The candidate must first foremost demonstrate an unwavering dedication and commitment to the Project Veritas Mission and vision of its Leadership

Operate with the strictest confidentiality

Outstanding interpersonal skills

Superior Critical Thinking Ability

Ability to Improvise

in stressful situations

Quick to Learn Technical Techniques

Courage

Willingness to Remain Behind the Scenes

Highly organized and detail-oriented

Helpful is an adherence to the principles of limited government, free enterprise, and personal responsibility.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Extensive and unusual hours are required due to the nature of the position, work and media deadlines. Additionally, due to the rapid tempo of the organization, the candidate must be of a flexible and accommodating nature, willing to get the job done in a team-like environment. Full-time candidates will be expected to live in the New York Metropolitan area and travel extensively. There is limited availability for full or part-time positions that may be located elsewhere; preferable on the West Coast. Candidates may not be able to share the details of their employment and operations with those outside their immediate family.

ESSENTIAL QUALIFICATIONS

Driver's License

Proficient with Mac, PC and social media

High School Diploma or equivalent

DESIRABLE QUALIFICATIONS

Bachelor Degree or at least 3 years of experience in news gathering, journalism or undercover work

Proficiency in a second language

Experience with video editing computer programs